TEST LAB

Many people have active cases of COVID-19 but never display symptoms. Unknowingly, they spread the virus to others. Through testing, communities like ours can detect and prevent the spread of COVID-19.

Most testing is accomplished through outside labs, but turnaround time to process tests can approach a full week. Sometimes, on-the-spot results are needed to contain the spread of illness.

With your support, we can operate an in-house test lab to deliver rapid results when immediate information is required.

While not a substitute for outside testing, an in-house lab is a critical tool for helping to control infection.

PROVEN IMPACT

Uses FDA-approved device available in 4.5 million locations
